Local property website introduces free listings

Fee-free website seeks to simplify real estate

Recently launched local property website www.DeliveringHomes.com.mt gives users the opportunity to list their properties for sale or to let, browse through the extensive listings, and find their ideal home at no fees.

Delivering Homes Ltd, the company behind the site, developed a unique, easy-to-use and free platform that brings together owners, buyers, brokers, agents and contractors.

The website caters for the important need to modernise and simplify the search for property in Malta, and fill in the gaps left by others in the market by offering an open, free and neutral platform that puts buyers and sellers on level playing field.

To access the free service, users simply need to create a one-time account that allows them to add new property listings, browse through the listings already uploaded, and contact each other without restrictions.

Users can add as many property listings as they like – listings will be publicly available on the site for 90 days after approval while expired listings can be renewed for as long as the property is still on the market. Delivering Homes does not pocket any commission or charge fees on properties that are sold or rented through their website.

“As marketing and internet specialists in the property industry we aim to become the fastest growing and most trusted company in the online real estate space in Malta,” said Adrian Sciberras, founder and CEO of Delivering Homes.

“Our mission is to simplify real estate for everyone by helping people buy, sell, rent and lease their property in a quick, smart and easy way,” he added.

The team behind DeliveringHomes.com.mt consists of professionals who have been working in the property industry for many years, and who have built a solid reputation in the sector through their integrity and expertise.

Apart from listings, DeliveringHomes.com.mt now also includes a blog. This blog, www.deliveringhomes.com.mt/blog/, is a valuable resource with various articles related to property buying and letting, financial aid and more.
